

DESCRIPTION

Classic earphones taken to the next level. Ergonomic, lightweight and featuring a USB-C output cable in line with Android smartphones and iPhone 15, which now say goodbye to the Jack port to make way to the new USB-C standard. The silicone ear cushions provide maximum comfort and sound isolation so you can listen to your favourite music for hours on end, and you can choose from three different sizes to best fit your ear. With a powerful microphone for crystal clear sound, as well as call handling and volume control - they have got it all!

Goodbye Jack port!

For those who prefer wired headphones, but don't want to be left behind. Enjoy maximum functionality with these headphones that incorporate a USB-C connector to adapt to the input of new and future smartphone models, replacing the old 3.5 mm Jack input. Upgrade without losing the essence of the classic.

Small earphones, big microphone

These tiny earphones are equipped with a powerful microphone to ensure that your recordings are perfectly clear and to optimise the quality of your voice during communications. Moreover, thanks to the remote control you will be able to manage your calls, as well as turn up and turn down the volume to your liking.

3 sizes of ear cushions: find the right ones for you

You can choose from 3 different sizes of ear cushions. They are made of silicone for maximum comfort in your ears and great sound quality thanks to the insulation. When you choose the perfect size for you, you will forget you are wearing them!

Small, lightweight and ergonomic

Incredibly comfortable thanks to their reduced weight and size, and perfect for carrying in your pocket. Plug them in whenever you want and enjoy their ergonomic design: they will never fall out of your ear or bother you again - simplicity is the key!
