

DESCRIPTION

Spray sterilizer that makes the application of hydro-alcoholic liquid even safer as it works with sensors. Perfect for common workspaces where you can share it, as there is no physical contact with the dispenser. Works with infrared Only by passing your hands over the dispenser, the infrared sensor detects them and automatically releases the sprayed hydro-alcoholic liquid, making the whole process twice as hygienic. Unlike classic dispensers, the user does not touch the item. So if someone can transmit germs or viruses, they wouldn't be able to pass it on to the next user. Sprayed liquid The spraying system, in addition to being more hygienic, also makes the whole process much faster and feels much lighter on the user's hands. Liquid not included The product includes Type-C charging cable, dispenser and manual. Attention: does not work with hydroalcoholic gel, only with hydroalcoholic liquid.
