

DESCRIPTION

The Mibro P5 with 4G connectivity is the very latest in children's technology and the ideal choice for the youngest members of the household. Thanks to the built-in GPS, it offers advanced parental control features such as real-time location, setting safe areas, SOS button and more. A smartwatch capable of making and receiving calls thanks to its built-in microphone and speaker, as well as including functionalities such as integrated camera, sports monitoring, lantern, among many others. All this is presented with a 1,3" TFT touch screen and a battery life of approximately 7 days.

Independence for them, peace of mind for you

The Mibro P5 smartwatch has been designed for kids' fun and parents' peace of mind. Equipped with advanced parental control features, such as built-in GPS and 4G connectivity, it provides real-time information about the watch's location. With the ability to set safe areas in your location, you will receive notifications if your son or daughter leaves these pre-defined zones. It also has an SOS button that allows children to notify a family member in emergency situations with a simple button push.

Hands-free calls

With the Mibro P5, children will enjoy the freedom to make and receive hands-free calls directly from the watch, thanks to its built-in microphone and speaker. In addition, the watch features a Nano SIM card slot (not included) and 4G connectivity for making calls without the need to be connected to a phone.

Endless functionalities

Equipped with an integrated 2-megapixel camera, the Mibro P5 not only supports video calls, but also photo and video capturing. Its versatility manifests itself in features such as chats between friends and family, multiple dials, alarm, weather forecast, lantern and various additional options. This unique watch offers a wide variety of functionalities to meet the needs of children at any time.

Health comes first

The Mibro P5 smartwatch offers you comprehensive monitoring of your children's physical activity. Thanks to its various sport modes, the watch monitors activities such as running outdoors, cycling, jumping rope and more. This tracking system generates a history that allows you to review the time spent on physical activity, the distance covered, the frequency of the sessions and the calories burned. By prioritising health, the Mibro P5 becomes your ally in keeping your children active.

Resistant touch screen

With a 1,3-inch TFT touchscreen, the Mibro 5 offers crisp, clear picture quality. Designed to ease your worries, this screen is not only shock and scratch resistant, but also features IPX8 protection, making it able to withstand sweat, heavy rain and splashes of water. A practical and durable watch, designed to keep up with children and withstand any challenge that they face.

A great battery

Meticulously designed to withstand a full week of classes, the Mibro 5's powerful 900 mAh battery ensures a battery life of approximately 7 days. And when the battery runs out, don't worry! With an incredibly fast charging time, from 0 to 100% in just 2,5 hours. A battery designed to ensure that the watch is always there, accompanying your children at every moment.
