

DESCRIPTION

The replacement charger for your KSIX Core smartwatch is composed of a magnetic pin system that offers convenient and easy charging. The cable is 60 centimeters long and incorporates a USB-A connector. Get your hands on this replacement charger so you always have it available at the office or elsewhere at home and do not have to carry the original charger back and forth and wear it out unnecessarily.

Magnetic charging system

The magnetic pin system that incorporates this charging cable is the simplest and safest way to charge your KSIX Core smartwatch. The simplest because its magnetic pins mate perfectly with the pins of the smartwatch, and the safest because, by not incorporating a conventional charging connector, the watch ensures complete watertightness so you can submerge it with complete peace of mind.

Flexible and resistant cable

The cable is made of PVC, which gives it a flexibility and resistance that offer exceptional durability. It has a 60-centimeter length and incorporates a USB-A connector so you can connect it to any wall charger, external battery or computer port and charge your Core with total comfort.
